Customer Reviews

I received a copy of this book for an honest review. This is a continuation of the Ujal series with Rhal and Cara's story. The Ujal are an alien race who live in the Earth's oceans and are seeking to co-exist with the humans. They can live in the water and out of it. Rhal is a warrior/guard and friend to Prince Tave, who is the next ruler in line over the Ujal race. However, the reader comes to find out he is also an Ujal assassin for the King (Tave's father), and has had a very unpleasant and abusive upbringing from both the king, his father, and his father's mate (Rhal's stepmother). I won't go into all the details and add spoilers, but the story surrounds Rhal and Cara, who are true mates, as they go through several difficulties to be together. I gave Rhal: The Complete Series five stars for the following reasons: 1. It was entertaining and held my interest throughout the story. 2. I liked the main characters. At first, I was put off by Rhal, but as the story unfolded, I understood why he made some of his choices. Best of all, both he and Cara admitted when they made mistakes and didn't try to blame the other for their own mistakes. 3. The reading flowed and I found very few editing or grammatical errors that seem to be prevalent in more and more kindle books these days. 4. I appreciate the author allowing the reader to either buy one episode to see if he or she likes it, or the whole series. I bought other series from Erin Tate at the reasonable price of $2.99. I hate cliffhanger endings where I have to wait weeks, months, or even over a year to find out what happens. Clearly, I am not the most patient person so I appreciate being given the opportunity to read the whole series at one time. 5. To me, the $2.

My ARC was given to me for a honest review. I would give 5 stars for The Ujal: Rhal, Complete by Erin Tate. The science fiction alien romance story is about humans and aliens for readers 18+ age group due to sexual content. The Ujal have come from space to live on earth in our oceans, and save it. Rhal, alien alpha male, can be a dark, lying, passionate, and moody individual. He loves Cara with passion, and thought he could be happy for a while. The tension can be felt between him and Cara. She is a strong woman that loves him, and among the few who will stand up against him.

The two currently have a difficult time in their relationship. At the moment, their love is put to a test by himself, and other factors. He will have to overcome his past from Ujal, and set aside his pride. Rhal's past from Ujal made him who he is today. A human-Ujal mating with special characteristics are only seen in Cara. You'll have to read the complete series to really enjoy it. I got caught up in the interesting, original storyline, drama, action and was not disappointed about the way it flowed. The scenes unfolded at a good pace throughout the story, and was realistic. The author, Erin Tate, made all the characters come alive in her vivid storytelling. I was swept away in reading the story. I wanted to see how Cara and Rhal progress in their relationship, what conflicts arose, and how they would fix things. Their journey was difficult but worth it. I was not bored or disappointed while reading it. She never left me hanging while I read it. I am ecstatic about completing Rhal's story, and was thrilled to finally complete it. I read the complete series without breaks, and later on a different day re-read it again.
