Synopsis

A human woman, a tail-sporting alien, and a deadly hurricaneâ | of course theyâ™re going to hook up! Or rather, they did hook up. But that was then. This is now. As a marine biologist, Maris Xayer is used to observing all types of marine life, but she never imagined sheâ™d come face to tail with an Ujal. In the middle of a hurricane, Maris and Vados came togetherâ "ahemâ "and then he disappeared. She figured it was a one-storm stand with an Ujal and moved on. Except Vados hadnâ™t really gone anywhere and now the sexy as sin, red-skinned Ujal is back. For her. **This is a stand alone 37 page COMPLETE SHORT STORY.** Part of the UJAL series: Vados Tave Rhal The Ujal Volume One (Vados, Tave, Rhal) Erun Dashing Through the Stars

Customer Reviews

I wasn't sure what to expect from this story/series but I'm very happy I decided to try it even though it's very short I was able to get to know the characters I really like Vados the main male character so excitable, so sweet, and very alpha I also liked the female lead she appeared strong without being bitchy. Very well done for such a short story am looking forward to book 2 if I could make one suggestion for improvement it would be to request some background on the Ujal where are they from originally, how long have they been here, and how long have humans known about them hopefully we see some of these answered in the continuing series. Can't wait to see who's next maybe the prince, or a new character, or Vados' friend/ partner I hope there's a new book soon I'll be watching!!!!

This was fun and quick read. I loved the author's style of writing, and she did a wonderful job with character development. This book would have been off the charts if it had been longer and with more of the story fleshed out. It was almost like a teaser. If we could have had more it would have knocked my socks off. I understand that another installment will be coming out, and I certainly will be buying it. My only wish is that it would be a tad longer.....However, for the price you more than get your money's worth!

For 41 pages the story is short, well written, and interesting. The world building is just enough to want more. In fact, when I was done reading Vados, I looked for more. This was so well done I wanted to hear more about the human / Ujal relations. There's conflict there between species. I wanted Maris to experience Vados's world and see if her transition would take her into a new direction -- Whether she would continue working at her old job or do something with Vados's people. I guess you call them people. But they're not. My main nit pick and it's a big one. No one and I mean no one is safe in a SUV during a hurricane. The storm surge can sweep in and slam the car into buildings or out to sea. It's the same reason trailer homes aren't safe, the strong winds and driving rains can blow out windows, lift, and take homes off their foundations. With that said, there's no way Maris and Vados were so involved in each other, during a hurricane, trapped in a SUV. That's the worst place to take shelter. - Dan's Wife

This work was so very disappointing! I read the sample for her new offshoot from this series about dragons and liked it, but I thought it would be great to start at the beginning. That was probably a poor choice, because this was a huge disappointment. Not only did it leave out a lot of info about the world, and the characters, but it was so short that I have read book samples that were longer. If this had been my first experience with this author I would not read her again. Luckily, I have read another series from this author and enjoyed it. So, I might think about skipping this series and just reading the dragons. Or maybe not.

I have never read anything by Ms. Tate, but she will be an author I follow. I enjoyed this new type of storyline. I would really love to read more about the Ujal and especially about Vados and Maris. I would also like more background on the Ujal. Thank you Ms Tate for the start to an interesting series.

Very enjoyable version of the traditional shifter world. I've read all three of the Ujal books; the third one (Rhal) is the one I liked the least. Vados was a fun read that outlined the background & built the 'world' & character traits enough to prompt me to read the next ones. The longer story line of Tave was appreciated - nice plot with some funny scenes. The 3rd story (Rhal) developed in such a way as to contradict the fundamental Ujal character standards & included too many scenarios that could only be explained by incredibly stupid or unaware secondary characters - the queen, Rhal's buddies, etc. I'd definitely read a 4th in the series but if more of the anomalies cropped up, I'd pass on future ones.

This is a short story which I found a good read . Maris Xayer is a marine biologist who during a hurricane meet Vados an Ujal. Because of different things happening during the storm they do not meet up again. Until Maris is attacked by a group of fanatics and has to be protected. I was given a copy of this book in exchange for an honest review." barwatts@telus.net

I just reread this after reading the fourth book that came out. I really enjoyed revisiting this. Vados is a scream with all the thoughts he has about other males around Maris and different situations. Poor baby. Very entertaining. Especially the Doctor at the end. Read the series, it's worth it. Enjoy! ^
