Customer Reviews

I just received my first pack of "Wisdom Cards" from today. They are great! I already own the "Power Thought" cards and I would have to say that these are one step above the latter. I feel comfortable coming back to purchase more for my sister and a good friend. With the two-sided cards describing the same affirmation idea, if one side doesn't resonate with you, the other side might be a better "fit". My only suggestion would be that this gift be given to someone that enjoys and could benefit from the power of affirmation and reflection. (I know, who couldn't? But, in the hands of someone not familiar with the idea of affirmations, they may be a bit confused about what to do with these beautiful cards.)

I have been using the Power Thought cards daily, and was wishing I had more of them. Then I found the Wisdom Cards. They're different (better?). A great follow-up to the Power Thought cards. Each day is better after I read these cards and let the affirmations resonate in my soul. My favorite way to use them: Put them up where you'll see them when you're doing other things; i.e., on the computer screen while you're working or surfing, on the bathroom mirror while you're blow-drying your hair, etc. It's amazing what your mind can do when you remove any barriers.

the greatest gift is love and these cards help you delve into love within yourself. i have given these cards as presents to many friends and they have all told me how much they enjoy them. i have a friend who has taken her cards and placed them everywhere around her house.another friend is very ill right now and she said they are so inspiring. she also shared it with her mother and brother. the three of them run a prestigious adult consultation and training business in the Philippines and they now plan to share it with their students!i still look at these cards every day. and still plan to share them as gifts whenever i can.

I love these cards but some do not fit my way of thinking. So just pick and choose the ones you like. There are enough to excuse the ones that are not so good. I love putting these cards around my house, or I read them before going to bed to give myself positive thoughts for sleeping. The quality of the cards is excellent--sturdy cards with a glossy finish. The artwork is whimsy. Have fun with these cards.

The wisdom cards do provide some inspirational messages but, I found that all the cards basically say the same thing. As a result of this I'm getting bored with my deck. About half of the deck is nicely illustrated and the other half seems to lack the art. So, if your looking for inspirational drawings this is not the deck to purchase. Don't bother with this deck. Look around. I recommend The Relax Deck, which offers more thought provoking ideas and commentary without being to repetitive. It also contains some exercises to practice. The illustrations are also very beautiful and inspiring.

These cards are a refreshing way to start your day! I start or end each day with 3 "wisdom cards". They are very reflective and inspirational. You will enjoy them and they are a great gift for that person that has everything.

My adopted Mom gave these to me several years ago and I have just ordered a set for my adopted daughter. I keep the deck near my desk and when I'm in need of some inspiration, I pull a card. It's amazing how helpful and accurate the cards have been during my own life situations. They've gotten me through losing my parents, a couple of stressful surgeries, and a move. They really can help if you're needing a bit of sage advice from time to time. Rebecca Kyle, January 2009

I ordered these cards after I read Louise Hay's "You can heal your life" book. The cards are gorgeous, so full of color they just make you happy looking at them... the affimations written on them recharge you in so many ways. These cards would make a great gift for anyone...especially yourself:)
