The Work Of The Angel In Our Astral Body: (CW 182)

Synopsis

1 lecture, Zurich, October 9, 1918 (CW 182) In this much loved lecture, Steiner reveals that the angels – the spirits closest to human beings – are trying to create images in human astral bodies. Such images are given for the purpose of bringing about – definite conditions in the social life of the future, – related to brotherhood, religious freedom, and conscious spirituality. Other spiritual beings, however, work in opposition to the angels. If, because of their disruption, humanity sleeps through the angels' spiritual revelation, the consequences will be dire, leading to the manifestation of sexual aberrations, the misuse of medicine, and the misapplication of mechanical and technological forces.

Customer Reviews

A real mind-expanding consideration of the spiritual realities that surround us, and a classic lecture much studied by students of Rudolf Steiner.

This book is a great intro to some of Steiner's work. It is small pocket sized and very informative.

I love books by Rudolf Steiner and this one is another fascinating one. The nice small size is perfect for a small purse too.

This book is the size of my palm, not very long, and uses well structured ways of writing. It offers a lot of conjecture and without explaining the theory well. It did not offer much in the way of background info on those who followed this theory, or the actual practice of it. It did not give much info in terms of when it was written and how the social and political climate might have had an impact on this train of thought either. I was slightly disappointed in this. The book arrived well packed and undamaged.
