The Attic Room: A Psychological Thriller

Synopsis

A father's secret... a mother's lie... a family mystery. An unexpected phone call and Nina's life takes a disturbing twist. Who is John Moore? And how does he know her name? Nina travels south to see the house she inherited, but sinister letters arrive and she finds herself in the middle of a police investigation. With her identity called into question, Nina uncovers a shocking crime. But what, exactly, happened in the attic room, all those years ago? The answer could lie close to home. The arrival of her ten-year-old daughter compounds Nina's problems, but her tormentor strikes before she can react. Searching for the truth about the Moore family puts both Nina and her child into grave danger. A fast-moving, chilling suspense novel by the author of The Cold Cold Sea, The Paradise Trees and Chosen Child....packed with suspense and intrigue. Carol Sampson

Customer Reviews

I had been eagerly awaiting the next book from talented author Linda Huber since reading The Cold, Cold Sea last year and loving it. The wait was well worth it as The Attic Room really delivered and lived up to expectations. Whoop!! connected with Nina very early in the book and think Linda has a real knack for writing characters who have depth and realism about them. I loved the journey with Nina and hung on with her as she found herself in her own personal hell. The entire book hangs on what happened in the attic room and let me tell you I absolutely loved the plot and where Linda took the story of the secrets that this room held in this big old house. The cover does it justice, you don't really want to open that door though dear reader, but you will, you will want to know...The book picks up pace as it rolls along, I was truly immersed in it and keen to know chapter by chapter what was coming up next. By the time reveals and twists are under way the book is just breathtaking, it tackles some difficult issues and they are done so well. I felt a lot of emotions reading this story from anger to pity and back again. I simply loved the plot, the characters, the tension, the build up and the grand finale. A gem of a book. There are moments of sheer tension as Nina faces not only dark secrets but very real threats to herself and her precious daughter that thrilled me as a reader yet disturbed me at the same time. Linda shines in this genre and her writing is so easy to like, both books I have read from her now have moved me emotionally, thrilled me, surprised me and always had great end of book twists that I did not see coming. The Attic Room is one of my favourite reads of 2015 and I have covered a lot of psychological thrillers this year.
