I purchased this book after I heard the author being interviewed. Since my reading of William Buhlman's books, I have wanted to have lucid out of body experiences. This book promised to help me with this. After reading just a short amount of this book, I have made some progress, but am not there yet, and am still reading it. I am quite sure that this is the book to get me where I desire to go.

What it does that I have not found other books to do, is it teaches how important it is and how to raise your vibration. Older books, like Buhlman's make no mention of this. I suggest this is vitally necessary. I now realize this is a good book for my aged mother who is now reaching the point where she has out of body experiences every time she has a health failure. I will recommend this book for her to read, because I feel if she doesn't have some kind of experience mastering out of body/energetic experiences, she could end up in an undesirable place when she passes. The church has kept this knowledge from us. But they certainly do know about this. Shame on 'em. I thing that I have done for a few years is I talk to the trees, etc., but mainly the trees, near the back of my garden. I tell them that some day, I don't know when, things will be better for them, there will be no pollution and they will have a much healthier life. I promise them that, I send them love. And I tell them other things, but mostly I send them love. I don't do that often enough, but I will increase my conversations with them because of this book. That being said, I want to tell you a story about 'my' trees. I am aware we need the sun for health reasons. But my back yard is in the south and behind my back yard is the forest where my trees are. They mostly block the sun.
