I read this book and Make him Burn with Desire yesterday. I was not expecting the book to be about meditation techniques and the subconscious mind. I am so very glad that I found this book though because I have always thought there was more to our thoughts and how they played out. So last night after reading the book I tried the techniques out. During the day I tried just the simple "Pussy Whip" technique. Within a few minutes I seriously had gotten a few text from the guy I was meditating on. I also got a video of him singing to me. I love watching him sing so it was special to me. Later that evening I got home and just knew that I was going to see him. Its been a little bit since I saw him but I knew he's been extremely busy with work related and child related matters so I hadn't pressed meeting up. I was determined that I was going to get a little bit of his time though. So I cleaned up my house, and just kept telling myself that he would be coming over. When I had a negative creeper thought come in like "what if he is too busy tonight", I busted that negative thought down by saying to myself that I am f'n awesome chick and he is going to want me like crazy. I got into the hot bath and tried the second technique in "Make him Burn with Desire". I got out of the tub and started getting dressed and prepared for him to come over. I just knew he was not going to be able to go without seeing me. We usually text all day long, and today my phone was fairly quiet. It was like we had been talking all day subconsciously. Within a few minutes he was calling me and telling me that he was going out with friends from work but he needed to see me. Keep in mind, I have not seen him in a couple of days.

OK. Upon reading the title of this book, I did not expect it to be about the mind and subconsciously controlling people with these techniques. I've read all the typical "understanding men" books, and they do have their place, especially Sherry Argov's books, but this book is ABSOLUTELY one of a kind. I really like Lanie's writing style and it's like an old girlfriend is talking to you. I wish I could meet Lanie in person, she sounds really cool! Anyway - so the universe/subconscious mind/mental energy, etc., have always been very interesting subjects for me and I was familiar with some of the techniques to tap into the unknown powers we all have, however, the specific, detailed method Lanie has explained here...my goodness...well...lets just say it is very powerful and should not be taken lightly. I'm actually surprised she can sell this book on because what she has written here can really change anything about anyone's life. As I was reading this I realized that I kind of do this method already, unconsciously, when I am talking to people or need to get out of a sticky situation. For example, I'll get pulled over by a cop, and I will KNOW that I'll be able to convince the cop to not give me a speeding ticket - without him knowing I am trying to convince him. I've been caught driving out of state without a license and got off with a warning before...I've been hired for a job where a college degree was required (which I do not have) and got hired anyway. I've always felt I had a gift for getting what I truly want from people, in certain circumstances. After reading this book, I realize that it is not coincidence or my good looks getting me out of speeding tickets...haha.
